the installation. 3
3. On 22 January , the following soldiers and material were entrained in Army Clothing Depot I in Bernau; 16 x 100-mm AT guns, 16 new trucks boxcars, approximately 80 soldiers wearing red-bordered black epaulets and full field equipment. The shipment was dispatched to the outer freight ring of Berlin. 4	25>
4. Prior to 22 January, the SS-Brieftaubenstation in Bernau was occupied by approximately 550 soldiers wearing red-bordered black epaulets. Six AA guns with muzzle brakes, presumably of 85 mm caliber, and 4 heavy machine guns or light 20-mm AA guns were observed in the installation. Six heavy guns, which were covered by tarpaulins, were seen in a shed which was still under construction.	25X
5. The four emplaced 37-mm AA guns had been replaced by lighter guns, presumably of 200 mm. Approximately 40 soldiers wearing red-bordered black epaulets received instruction on the newly emplaced guns. A range finder with a base, approximately 500 mm long, and a barrel, approximately 80 mm in dismter, was seen with these soldiers. 5 At 0900 on 22 January, 10 soldiers wearing red-bordered black epaulets received training with homing pigeons.
6. At 1100 on 15 January, 8 x 76.2-mm AA guns were entrained in Bernau. The shipment which included 5 converted boxcars, left toward the Berlin outer freight ring. 7
